The third-ranked Baylor Lady Bears put two streaks on the line, a 22-game win streak and 16 straight home victories, when they host West Virginia on Sunday at 4:00 p.m. BU's 22-game win streak is tied with UConn's 22-game win streak and a game ahead of Princeton's 21-game string. It marks the 11th straight year the Lady Bears have fashioned a double-digit win streak, and it is their longest win string since a 32-game streak in 2012-13.

Baylor, 23-1 on the season and in sole possession of the Big 12 Conference lead at 12-0, is ranked No. 3 in both the AP Poll and the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll for the fifth straight week. Baylor has a three-game lead on the rest of the Big 12 entering Sunday's game.

This season marks the fifth time in eight years, and the fifth time in Kim Mulkey's 15-year tenure, BU has been 23-1 through 24 games (most recently 24-0 in 2011-12 and 23-1 in 2012-13).

The Lady Bears are led by sophomore forward Nina Davis' 21.4 points a game which ranks No. 1 among Big 12 players. Davis, an All-America candidate, ranks No. 2 in the league in rebounding with 8.8 a game. Sophomore post Khadijah Cave comes off the bench with 10.8 points and 5.3 rebounds while sophomore guard Imani Wright manages 10.4 points a contest. All-American candidate Niya Johnson dishes out a nation's-best 8.7 assists per game and ranks No. 3 nationally in assist/turnover ratio (3.9) as BU's junior point guard. Johnson dished out a career-high and Big 12 record-tying 17 assists with no turnovers against Oklahoma on Wednesday.

Under 14th-year West Virginia head coach Mike Carey, West Virginia is 15-9 on the season, 5-7 in Big 12 play. WVU is led by junior guard Bria Holmes' 20.0 ppg. Senior forward Averee Fields scores 13.6 points and hauls down a team-leading 7.0 rebounds a contest.

The game will feature two of the league's top scorers, BU's Nina Davis ranks No. 1 at 21.4 ppg and WVU's Brian Holmes follows with 20.0 ppg.

HEAD COACH KIM MULKEY

Success = Kim Mulkey. No matter what she's attempted in basketball, whether it be on the court or along the sideline, Mulkey has found success. In just 15 seasons as a head coach, she has attained 427 career victories and ranks No. 2 among the winningest active Division I head coaches (.831) and No. 4 all-time by percentage. Only one person, her mentor Leon Barmore, attained the 400-win milestone quicker. It took Barmore 13 seasons and three games to accumulate 400 wins, while Mulkey achieved it in 13 years and 32 games.

When the Women's Basketball Hall of Famer accepted the position as Baylor University's women's basketball head coach on April 4, 2000, few could have predicted the dramatic and prestigious transformation the program was about to undergo. In just 14 years at Baylor, the former Olympic Gold medalist has twice guided the Lady Bear basketball program to the pinnacle of women's basketball, the 2005 and 2012 NCAA national championships, 13 NCAA Tournament appearances, 15, 20-win seasons, 12, 25-win efforts, five, 30-win campaigns and an NCAA record 40 wins and undefeated record in 2011-12. In addition, over the past seven seasons, Mulkey has led the Lady Bears to three Final Four appearances (2005, '10, '12) and 11 Big 12 Conference titles.

The 2005 national title was Baylor's first for a women's team sport, and just the second in school history overall.

In winning the 2005 title, Mulkey became the first person, man or woman, to win a basketball national championship as a player, assistant coach and head coach.

En route to the 2005 NCAA championship, the Lady Bears won their first Big 12 Conference championship and were the league's tournament champion, too. In 2009, the Lady Bears added to the trophy case with another Big 12 Tournament crown, claimed both the 2011 regular season and tournament crowns and captured the 2012 regular season title by a record seven games over second-place finishers Oklahoma and Texas A&M and again earned the tournament crown. The Lady Bears duplicated the feat in the 2012-13 season, winning both crowns, and became the first team to win three straight conference tournament titles and five all-told. In 2013-14, Baylor claimed its fourth straight Big 12 regular season title becoming the first league school to achieve that feat and claimed its fourth straight and sixth overall tournament crown.

Mulkey has produced amazing results since taking over the program's reins on April 4, 2000, averaging 28.8 wins through 14 years. In her 15 years at the program's helm, she has posted an impressive 427-87 (.831) record which ranks her No. 2 nationally in winning percentage. In addition, the Lady Bear program ranks No. 5 among the NCAA Division I's winningest teams over that span.

Since coming into the league in 2000-01, Mulkey owns the top winning percentage and most victories among Big 12 coaches at 83.1 percent (427-87).

Mulkey's autobiography, "Won't Back Down," hit bookstores on Nov. 1, 2007.

Oklahoma head coach Sherri Coale: "She's probably one of the most underrated point guards in the country, and people don't know her name, but her numbers are unbelievable. The way she feels the game is exceptional. She really has a great nose for it and plays within herself and knows how to get the players around her in the right place at the right time."

Baylor head coach Kim Mulkey on Johnson: "I don't know that I've coached a point guard that has as much knowledge of the game in the flow of the game. She's just smart out there."
